WILL BE BEAUTIFIED

Owing to the fact that a number of the bids received by the trustees of the Methodist church for the building a tower on that edifice were unsatisfactory, new bids have been called for. This will delay work a little, but when the work begins it will be rushed to completion. The trustees have received plenty of encouragement in the canvass of funds, and are assured that all the money necessary for the beautifying of the cathedral will be forthcoming.

G. A. R. Appropriation Asked.

At a largely attended meeting of the executive committee of the G. A. R. encampment which has charge of the details of the entertainment of the veterans, held at the Weber club last evening, a resolution was adopted, in which both the city and county were asked to make appropriations of $1,500 cach. The question of providing accommodations as well as the entertainment of the veterans was discussed in detail before action was taken. The mayor was asked to appoint various citizens' committees to work in conjunction with the committees from the other organizations of the city.

In an impassioned burst the Indiana senator declared the worst enemies of a protective policy were those who resisted any reduction of the duties to meet changed conditions.

As to Wisdom.

"It will not be permitted that anyone shall say here," declared Mr. Beveridge, "when senators desire to reduce these rates that they are less carnest protectionists than others, for we think we are equally as earnest as, and more wise other organizations of the city.

Since the organization of the Automobile club Monday evening and the publishing of the proposed races on Decoration day, several of the more enthusiastic auto owners of the city have begun to issue challenges and deposit purses for match races with other car owners. Indications at present point to the races being the most successful auto races ever neld in the northern part of the state.

Stone Defends Himself.

Who, not a single microbe of it," he almost shouted. "No free trade here, but will anybody deny there is protection over there?" pointing in dramatic manner toward the Democratic side of the chamber. He predicted that the protective tariff would make many southern states Republican.

Denouncing the trust as having outraged every principle of honesty in trade he still appealed to the senate not to strike a blow at the sugar industry in order to punish the trust.

"They should be punished," he said, "like criminals. Put stripes on them, but do not strike down a domestic industry." Mr. McEnery spoke in support of the same principles.

same principles.
Although a Democrat, Mr. McEnery made no effort to conceal his protective predilections. "A tariff for revenue only," he said, "was never contemplated by the builders of our constitution. Free trade or tariff for revenue only has no place in our system of government. No tariff can he levied without carrying protection in some degree.

be levied without carrying protection in some degree.

"It is gratifying that at this session of congress," he said, "we notice a great change of opinion among Democrats who are voting for a duty on raw material, although at one time free raw material was considered a cardinal principle of the Democracy. I hope the conditions of the country may dictate to the Democrats the abandonment of all the absurd theories of free trade and cause them to come in with the great body of people and vote a liberal protection for all manufacturing interests."

Republicans Listened.

Senators Aldrich, Sutherland and Gam-Senators Aldrich, Sutherland and Gamble, Scott, Page, Smith (Mich.), Bristow, Root. Bradley, Crawford, Burton, Johnson and Stephenson closely attended upon the words of the venerable Louisiana senator. His remarks did not appear to be so popular with the Democrats as toward the latter part of his address only his colleague. Senator Foster, and Senator Daniel gave him special attention.

Mr. McEnery had not concluded when the senate adjourned.

a mistake. After an elaborate enunciation of his affectionate regard and respect for Mr. Bryan, Mr. Stone insisted that in this case he believed the famous Nebraskan to be in error, and proceeded to give the arguments which had influenced him in reaching the conclusion that a "duty for revenue" should be levied upon iron ore.

Mr. Stone declared that he could see no way in which the United States Steel corporation could profit by the duty on steel, and he believed the greatiron ore product brought into this country should be made to yield revenue.

SENATOR FOSTER'S IDEA.
